CHI Upsilon BANQUET.

Pleasant Event Last Evening in Washburn Street Presbyterian Church. The Toasts Responded To.

The Chi Upsilon Literary society of the Washburn Street Presbyterian church held one of its semi-annual banquets in its session quarters last evening. The tables, four in number, were arranged on the four sides of the room, thus forming a hollow square. The room was prettily decorated with yellow and blue hunting, the society's colors, the national flag forming a center piece. The Chi orchestra played an opening selection and the menu was served, beginning at 9 o'clock, by a corps of charming lady waiters.

PRESIDENT A. E. MORSE.

Following the banquet proper, the toastmaster, President A. E. Morse, made a short address of welcome and then called upon the gentlemen selected to respond to the following toasts: "Our Guests," J. H. Battenberg; "Our Society," J. H. Battenberg; "Our Church," Rev. J. P. Moffatt; "Old Glory," Horace Keene; "Drummers," Harry C. Nisteyer; "Developments," Frank Thornton.

The toasting was interspersed with several very fine selections by the Chi orchestra, consisting of the following gentlemen: Herbert Waters, violin; George Waters, Jr., viola; A. E. Morse, saxophone; Walter West, piano. Those who enjoyed the hospitality as guests and the members present were: Rev. and Mrs. J. P. Moffatt, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Keen, Mr. and Mrs. John Malott, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Battenberg, the Messrs. Alva Davenport, Ellis Saunders, Hester, Wines, Junliatta Kiefer, Marie Corr, Mabel G. Weston, Margaret Hill, Mabel G. Yost, Boughton, M. Belle Dool, Hattie Fellows, Elizabeth Carolyn, Lellan and Pearl Porter, Margaret Williams, Bertha Lowenstein, Florence and Georgia Hunt, and Elizabeth Heiser, Jesses, Arch Mears, Fred C. Peters, Thane Green, Howard Williams, Theodore E. Myers, Wilkes-Barre; Horace G. Keen, Geo. Waters, Jr., Herbert Waters, C. H. Hall, C. H. Desby, Frank Thornton, A. E. Morse, Walter Davies, H. A. Niemeyer, William D. Griffiths, George Schoen.

The members of the society were built and furnished the room used by them at their own expense, having it constructed conjointly with the church edifice. Their new piano was played last evening at the banquet for the first time.

BURGLAR AT WORK.

Gave Police Officers a Lively Chase in the Early Morning.

The installment and furnishing house of Edward Farr, situated on West Lackawanna avenue, near North Main, was broken into yesterday morning at about 3.15 o'clock and burglarized. Patrolman J. D. Thomas, who is on duty on West Lackawanna avenue, discovered the man and finding it impossible to obtain entrance to the store, proceeded to awaken Paul, who resides in apartments over the store. The burglar scented danger and went into the cellar, and while Mr. Farr opened the door, he crawled through a little cellar window into an area-way running between the store and the next building, occupied by Dr. Douglas.

FINE ENTERTAINMENT.

The antimotose exhibition held in the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church last evening under the auspices of the Simpson chapter, Epworth league, was a decided success. The audience was crowded and each number of the phonograph and antimotose was enthusiastically received. In many instances encores were demanded. The phonograph selections were distinct to a person seated in the very last seat at least 100 feet away. The scenes thrown on the canvas were life size and so realistic as to cause a doubt of their not being real persons. The "Buffalo Stock Market," the "Coney Island Chutes," the "Niagara Falls," all were exact reproductions. Probably the passing of the "Black Diamond express" of the Lehigh Valley railroad was the most intense one. The rushing train moving at a rate exceeding sixty miles an hour seems to pass right from the screen into the audience and has in some instances effected some persons so much as to cause them to leave their seats. There was nothing offensive to any taste or opinion and the language may certainly feel proud of their efforts in bringing about this exhibition through Professor Howe.

FUNERALS YESTERDAY.

The infant child of Mrs. John Jenkins, of Landis street, Bellevue, was buried yesterday afternoon in Washburn street cemetery. The funeral services were held at the home and were attended by immediate friends only. The Rev. David Jones officiated. The funeral services of the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. William Chaves, of 13th Street, Lackawanna, were held at the residence yesterday afternoon. The friends and relatives attended and interment was made in Washburn street cemetery.

SINKER INJURED.

John Jones, of Hampton street, employed on the night shift of shaft sinkers, who are engaged in sinking the new shaft at the Bellevue colliery of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company, had his leg broken last night. The accident occurred about 11.15 and the injured man was removed to his home, where he was attended by Dr. G. B. Reynolds.

NOTES AND PERSONALS.

PROVIDENCE.

Constable Davis arrested Mrs. John F. Space yesterday at the instance of W. D. Watkins and she was given a hearing last evening before Alderman Roberts. Watkins keeps a butcher shop and it is alleged that by making false representations Mrs. Space secured goods to the amount of several dollars. Roberts stated that he was to collect the money but without success. Last evening, however, she agreed to settle Mr. Watkins' claim and upon paying the costs of the case was allowed to go free. Miss Thomas, of Binghamton, N. Y., is being entertained by Miss Blanche Halden, of Oak street.

DUNMORE.

Miss Kate Gardner, of Clifford, has returned home after a short visit with Miss Eva Osterhout, of Blakely street. Fresh fish at Harry Spencer's meat market, Thursday and Friday. Fred Webber, of Harper street, had two lines of his right hand badly smashed while working in No. 1 colliery yesterday. It is feared amputation will be necessary. B. M. Williams will deliver a lecture in Boyle's hall Friday evening at 8 o'clock. His subject will be "Dairy Which is Contrary to Divine Law, Has and is Doing More Harm Than Strong Drink." After the lecture the matter will be open for discussion. Every one is welcomed. Admission will be free. Marcus Reed, of Simons, is the guest of John N. Swinick, of Third street. The funeral of Mary, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Webber, of Chestnut street, took place yesterday morning. Interment was made in St. Mary's cemetery. A team of horses attached to a delivery wagon of J. H. Davitt, the boiler, took fright yesterday near his factory. They were brought to a standstill after running about three blocks.

MINOOKA.

The St. Joseph society will hold a meeting this evening to which the young men and ladies of the parish are cordially invited. The object in view is to make the choir which took part in Sunday's convention a permanent organization, and also to organize a Ladies' Temperance society. The Scranton base ball park is the objective point for the daily throngs of the recently organized tourist club. The supervisor is beginning to make a showing. Yesterday a force of men remedied the deplorable spot near the residence of Peatus Connolly, which has been an eyesore to pedestrians for many months. It looks as if the tarred fence is a commendable measure for abolishing looting.

TITENBENDER CASE.

Arguments of Counsel Heard by Judge Edwards Yesterday. Arguments on the evidence adduced in the equity suit of Israel Titenbender and John M. Kemmerer were made before Judge Edwards in chambers yesterday, S. B. Price appearing for the plaintiffs and Judge Ward for the respondents. The proceedings, it will be remembered, were brought to annul the dissolution agreement by which Israel Titenbender was retired from the firm, the ground of complaint being the allegation that he was at the time of dissolution in a frame of mind unfitting him for business and that unfair advantage of him was taken by his partners. The case is one of unusual importance involving many knotty legal problems and dealing with a very valuable property.

SEVEN OUT OF ELEVEN.

Big Results in the Dunmore Election Contest Monday. Out of the eleven witnesses examined in the Dunmore election contest Monday seven were proven to be illegal voters. Anthony Higgins, of the First district of the First ward, had not paid his taxes. Michael Ruess, Tony Gibiano, Joseph Cluffa and Joseph Pennington, of the Fifth ward, were disqualified for the same reason, and Michael Collins and John P. Fitzsimmons, of the same ward, were shown to have voted on first papers.

SOUTH SIDE.

At a special meeting of the William Connell Hose company last night, the sale of tickets for the disposal of their old hose cart was discussed, and bids were received and read for the furnishing of one of their parlors. All figures were unsatisfactory and action was postponed until the next meeting. About 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon fire was discovered in a barn on the rear of Mr. McAlboun's property on Prospect avenue. An alarm was rung from box 27 and the fire company promptly responded. In about fifteen minutes the blaze was extinguished. The loss was slight. At the regular meeting of the St. Irene's Total Abstinence society Monday night, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Presi-and collecting the money and blowing a horn the other two were sing to the bears to make them sing after I was looking at them a little while I went home. The men were dark color and had a long mustach and were wearing a funny song to the bears and when they would not get some money they would go up the street and they did that and went down Luzern st and I did not see them any more.

We went down to see bear dance the man began to sing and the bear danced then the man said let us go hunting the man took his gun and he was not wanting and did not catch it the man began to scold him he throw it ax and the bear it they marched down the street and the man said turn a tumble and not bear turned twice, the man blow his horn and said fifteen cents to see the bear climb the post no one would except the over they went a little farther and the man took two bottles of water and water the drink all they wanted then the man took the pale of water and threw it on them both they went a little farther and they came to a pond which was all the little woods pond they let all the rope out then the bears had a swim they went down to a post and one gave them fifteen cents he climbed the post and when he got to the top he put his foot on the post and gave him one pull then he came down when he came down he put his paw around a little boys leg and tried to hug him. One boy touched the bear the bear started to blow he said if the bear would of huged you it would not be him to blame. Then the men got on their bears and rode down the street when the men got off the bears and the men began to talk in their language and the men in their, just then the bears began to fight the men pulled the largest bear feel on his back and he was very angry.

OBITUARY.

Dr. Jeffrey J. O'Donnell, one of Honesdale's most prominent citizens, died Monday morning after an illness of twenty-four hours. He was a son of Timothy O'Donnell, of Honesdale, and was born there on Jan. 12, 1853. After completing the course provided by the public school he attended St. John's college for three years from which he was graduated. He then took a medical course, which he completed in 1881, and commenced the practice of his profession in Honesdale, where he has since continued to practice. He was active in Democratic politics, and in 1892 was the nominee of his party for the office of coroner, and was elected over Dr. G. H. Barkley. His political opinions were in favor of the Republican nominees. At the time of his death he was a member of the United States Pension Medical Examiners, having received the appointment under the Cleveland administration upon the resignation of Dr. Reed Burns in 1895. During his incumbency in the office of coroner, a vacancy occurred in the Sheriff's office by the death of J. Warren Kimball in 1895. In accordance with the provisions of the constitution, the duties of sheriff devolved upon him in his capacity as coroner until the vacancy in the Sheriff's office was filled by the appointment of T. L. Mealand. In 1888 he was married to Charlotte Weffering, of Honesdale, who, together with their three children, survive him. His father and mother and brother, T. D. McCoull, also survive him. The funeral will be held from St. John's Catholic church, where a high mass of requiem will be celebrated at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

THE FROTHINGHAM.

The sale of Sousa's opera tomorrow morning for the great Sousa band and concert at the Frothingham next Saturday evening. Within the past year Sousa has scored three great successes and the latest is the greatest of them all. It is his brilliant musical sensation, the comic opera "El Cantan," which has established his position as a writer of pure comic opera as firmly as he holds the title of the "March King." The march movements of the opera are the examples of Sousa's talents in the department of martial music. Critics say they are fully as virile and magnetic as any of the preceding marches which have established the fame of Sousa, and that it is enough to set the nerves tingling and the feet moving to hear them. Sousa is the march king of America as surely as the great Strauss is the waltz king of Europe. This concert of his peerless band will contain the choicest of Sousa's programme music.
